

Redmoon Gathering on Saturday as part of Fire Fest's second coming

By Doug George

Caption Great Chicago Fire Festival

Armando L. Sanchez, Chicago Tribune

One of three home sculptures burns during the Redmoon Theater Co.'s Great Fire Festival on the Chicago River on Oct. 4, 2014.

Great Chicago Fire Festival

Caption Great Chicago Fire Festival

Armando L. Sanchez / Chicago Tribune

One of three home sculptures that was burned during the Redmoon Theater Company's Great Fire Festival on the Chicago River Saturday Oct. 4, 2014, in Chicago.

Chicago Tribune

- Great Chicago Fire Festival

Say what you will about Redmoon, quitters they are not. The Great Chicago Fire Festival — that high-profile fizzle for the theater in its inaugural year in 2014 on the Chicago River — is back this year; community events began in June and will culminate in a headliner 2015 Fire Fest Sept. 26 at Northerly Island. Yes, including the burning of a house.

Redmoon's fire festival will move to drier land

As part of the ramp-up, from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. this Saturday at Ping Tom Park in Chinatown is a Summer Gathering — with free performances by the Ling Ling Dance Company, Happiness Club, The Remedy A Cappella singers, Aerial Dance Chicago and Actors Gymnasium, and Ballet Folklorico Xochitl. Plus youth workshops, activities and the Redmoon's Sonic Boom and Ladder Machine. More information at chicagofirefestival.com

