

Captured: Arts Circle Celebration

 dailynorthwestern.com/2016/06/06/top-stories/captured-arts-circle-celebration/

Welcome to The Daily's photo blog: Captured. This will be a space to share photos by The Daily's staff as well as photos from members of our community. Students can submit entries to be considered from their classes, vacation or just from around NU by emailing photo@dailynorthwestern.com.

Northwestern and Evanston community members gathered at the Arts Circle on Saturday for a day-long celebration of the arts. The public event showcased a series of exhibitions and performances while also featuring student artists. The day's events included the Trisha Brown Dance Company performing "Roof Piece," a site-specific dance executed on top of the buildings surrounding the arts lawn. There was also music from more than 150 cellists, a performance of "The Tea Project" by Aaron Hughes (Graduate School '09) and Amber Ginsburg, and a show by The Actors Gymnasium.

Photos by Daniel Tian/Daily Senior Staffer

