

'Circus Crashers' sends in the clowns

Chicago Sun-Times (IL) - Friday, March 3, 2006

Author: The Chicago Sun-Times

Hey, everybody! It's a clown fight!

More than 30 clowns go head to head (or red nose to red nose if you prefer) with the amazing Actors Gymnasium Teen Ensemble in the new circus show Circus Crashers, opening Saturday at the Actors Gymnasium at the Noyes Cultural Arts Center, 927 Noyes, Evanston.

Written by Alice-Gray Lewis and Noel Williams, the plot follows the high jinks of clowns Mel and Zetta as they try to break into the big time under the big top. Jeff award-winning choreographer Sylvia Hernandez-DiStasi provides the choreography and Andy Park directs.

Performances are Saturdays at 4 and 7 p.m. and Sundays at 2:30 p.m. through April 9. Adults $15, children under 12 and seniors $7. Call (773) 764-2896 or visit the Web site www.actorgymnasium.com.

Edition: Final

Section: Weekend

Page: NC49

Index Terms: News

Record Number: 11020A95593B59C0

Copyright (c) 2006 Chicago Sun-Times, Inc.

To bookmark this article, right-click on the link below, and copy the link location:

'Circus Crashers' sends in the clowns